"The Weathersby-Goodwin Froliques have simply repeated at Haverly's Theater the success which we have chronicled that the strict, were reau and referenced."

The bill of W. II. Caldwell, J. P., amounting to SE3, was referred to the committee on Court House and Jail. The bill of John S. Mitchell for removes all the praises that have been bestowed upon the Froliques by our correspondents throughout the country, and to record for them one of the most genuine condents throughout the country, and to record for them one of the most genuine of the committee on Roads and Bridges.

The resignation of Samuel McVay, constable of Webster District, was referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

The bill of John S. Mitchell for remove detection of militing camp in cidents skillfully intervoven, and well and the mitter of the bill of John S. Milerty."

Staturdy, January 9.—Throking the inded is a drunken miner who has struck a rich "lead." This "lead" is coveted by Juan Walter, a "greaser." who finally kills Smith, and converting his "dust," leaves for "Frisco" to enjoy it, accompanied by a scheming adventuress, who is a sister-law of Smith's. The murder of Smith is adroilly fixed on John Gray, a schoolmaster, and the accepted lover of "M'liss," but the murder was witnessed by Fake, a showman, who finally brings Walter to justice.

Yuba Bill is another prominent character and also Judge Beeswinger. The M'liss of Miss Pikley was very natural, and she acted the spirited camp child to perfection. Her songs were well given and were rapturously encored. The Yuba Bill of Mr. J. E. McDonough wasfextremely well given. Mr. Ben Rodgera as the Judge was an excellent character, as was also the Templeton Fake of Murry Woods, who with Miss Pizley gave a medley that brought down the house. The Juan Walter of Robert Falford was very acceptable, and the Smith of Mr. W. T. Johnson was well given. The remaining part of the company is very good.

This play will be reproduced to-night and should be largely attended, as it is vastly superior to any "Buffalo Bill" or Frank Chanfran performance ever given in this city.

WHEELING, January 5. onat week in the daily and Sunday papers an attempt made by a certain fellow in the eastern part of the city, to cast slurs upon eastern part of the cnty, to case sure upon me in various ways: by so-called "poplarest club presentations," and remarks as to the running of the Ohio river, &c. Now, these are all base fabrications. So far as the joke is concerned, I would not think over it a minute, but when a man that is incompetent to failfill his own duty as a city employe attempts, in the manner this fellow does, to throw surs at a man that neither thinks nor cares for him, I have come to the conclusion that it is time to show him up. I would therefore advise him to spend more of his time leaning his duty, so that when he goes to a fire again he will not have to get citizeus to help him to connect the engine, before the building is nearly burned down. This is only one advice to this fellow, and as I do not wish to hurt any person's feelings, nor to injure his prospects for the city clerkship, for "sure" he is bound to "bate" Atex. Updegraff—in his mind, I can tell him and all concerned in the slurs above referred to, to "cheese it," or some of them will hear something that will make their ears ring—especially their long ones.

New York Dry Goods Market.

New Yous, January 5.—The general condition of the dry goods trade remains unchanged. Agents are making considerable deliveries of cotton and woolen goods in the execution of former orders, but the current of business is of limited proportions, as there are at present comparatively few buyers in the market. The jubbing trade has displayed very little animation, but the demand is reported rather better than usual at this dull period of the season. Cotton goods only in moderate demand at first hands, but the tone of the market is very firm, and nearly all the leading makes of goods continue sold shead. Brown cottons again receiving a good seal of attention from converters, in which connection some liberal transactions lately occurred. Print cloths market quiet, but prices are firm at last quotations. There was a fair demand for shirting prints, and medium and dark fancies were taken in moderate parcels by package buyers but the general demand for printed calleces is comparatively light. Prices firm and unchanged.
